Brodhead Post, G. A. R., have received their new flag. It is a beauty. The cost was $80. It was manufactured by Frank Henderson, of Kalamazoo. One half the cost donated to the Post by citizens of our community, for which liberality on their part the members of the Post desire to tender their sincere thanks.

The entertainment at the Opera House this (Friday) evening, will consist of recitations by Miss Ada Shedd, both serious and comic, music both vocal and instrumental by Misses Mary, Ada and Louise Shedd, assisted by our best home talent. The Press of various localities where they have been speak very highly of them. Read the programmes that have been distributed, and go and hear them.

Just at the dinner hour on Wednesday last the alarm of fire was sounded. The fire was in a room occupied by Mrs. Clark, in the wooden range adjoining the Court House, and was caused by a little boy touching a match to some straw that had been procured for filling beds. It was extinguished by a few pails of water and without having done much damage. Matches and children are almost as dangerous a compound as gun powder.

Last Monday evening a man was on our streets selling prepared cartridges of giant powder, for the purpose of a wholesale slaughter of our fish in our lakes and rivers. Promiscuous spearing, it seems, was not destroying our fish fast enough, for that allowed the small ones to escape, and so this wholesale system of blowing them up, both great and small, has been resorted to. Such slaughter ought to be punished by imprisonment in the states prison.

Sheep Shearing.
The second annual sheep shearing festival, of the Western Van Buren and Allegan county Sheep Breeders' Association, was held at South Haven on the 14th inst. The result of the shearing was as follows:

Grand Army Order.

HEADQUARTERS
BRODHEAD POST, No. 33, G. A. R.,
Paw Paw, May 24, 1883.
(Special Order, No. 1.)

In compliance with the rules and regulations of the order, May 20, 1883, will be observed as Memorial Day by this Post, and the following programme is hereby prescribed:

1.—Brodhead Post will assemble at its armory at 8 o'clock, a. m.
2.—The committees appointed to visit the several cemeteries, will at once proceed to decorate the graves of deceased comrades interred therein, after which they will rejoin the command at the armory with all convenient despatch.
3.—On the return of such committees, Brodhead Post and visiting comrades will form in column in front of the armory, and march south on the line of Kalamazoo street, to main street, where the column will be joined by any procession of citizens, who will form in the rear of the command, on which the procession will march to Prospect Hill cemetery, where the memorial services of the order will take place, and graves of comrades there buried, will be appropriately decorated.

4.—On the conclusion of these ceremonies the procession will return to the village and the members of the G. A. R. will be marched to the armory where rations will be served.
5.—At 2 o'clock p. m. the column will again form and march to the Court House, where an appropriate address will be delivered by the Rev. A. C. Abbott, of Kalamazoo.

6.—All comrades are requested to meet at the armory, on Sunday, May 27th, at 10 o'clock a. m., in uniform, for the purpose of attending a union service to be held in commemoration of the day set apart for the decoration of the graves of our deceased comrades. By order of Addison Gleason is visiting his father, Dr. Samuel Gleason, in the state of New York.

Elijah and Chapin Burt are both arranging to build new and commodious dwellings.

Miss Ella Staples, of California, is visiting her father Chandler Whipple, and other friends in this vicinity.

Andrew Shepard is home from Cheyenne, where he has been for the last three years. He will not return at present.

Henry Pugsley has rented his farm to his son Milton, and retired to a small estate of his in the Doughty neighborhood, near Paw Paw.

Why should a man like Mr. Bowen permit his son Chauncey to go "over the hills to the poor house?" How hard his heart must be to allow him to leave a comfortable home, without a tear or a regret and travel through the storm to the home of the friendless. Heart disease may be incurable, but if the manager of the "poor farm" would furnish the cash and let Mr. B. keep Chauncey at home, it might be alleviated.
